

Save the species!

Do you like animals?
Well, we do! You should help save animals or there will be no animals left on earth. A long time ago, there was just enough room on earth for humans and animals. Now, there is over $7\frac{1}{2}$ billion people on earth. I learned this from the book endangered animals.

There are a million ways you can help save species so try a couple. One way you can help is by adopting a baby wolf. From a save animal fondation you can adopt a baby wolf for only $16.00. I looked that up on google while doing reserch. Another way you can help is by donating money to help save a species.

The species I would like to help is the wolf. There are no wolves in the state of New York, but, if we save them now, they might have a chance of existing in New York in the future. Wouldn't that be nice?

If you want animals in the future stop killing them and save them! I am afraid that in the future, animals won't exist for my kids to see! Imagine that a world without animals, we won't have anything to eat because animals provide food for us. We won't have anything to drink because the rivers will be dried out from nothing living in them. That won't be good at all.

If you want to save animals and promise to help, sign here now!
Please sign the petition. This could help us. If you would like to help sign and give in money to the Sierra club to help earn money to save animals.

So many species are being killed and sold for money. I can't just sit here and watch animals die. I want to do something to help, so many animals, so many species are dying. But you can save one at a time instead of all of them.
Help save the species!
