

Love Is Missing Someone When He's Away

Everyone has someone who is special to them. Maybe it's their best friends, their sisters or brothers. But to me that someone is my dad because he is so close to me my dad goes on trips a lot. I miss my dad when he is away because we have so much fun together. He takes care of me when I am sick and because when I am afraid he makes me safe.

One reason why I miss my dad is because we had so much fun together.

During the weekend we enjoy jogging together. We run around lakes.

After school we enjoy sitting at the computer. We play all these different kind of games.

At midnight we enjoy sitting on the sofa. We tell stories and jokes.

But when he's not around I don't jog with anyone, I don't sit down on a chair and plays games with anybody and I don't stay at midnight and talk with anyone.

An example of this is when my dad went on a trip. I was lonely sitting by myself. My sister was doing homework and my mom was busying doing work. I was waiting to play with some body.

"Zena could you play with me" I asked her.

"I can't" she said.

But all of sudden the door bell ring-Ring-Ring-Ring.
"Hello?" I asked.

"Hello" a guy said back.
"Daddy's coming" I yelled so that my family could hear me.

I buzzed him in. I heard footsteps.

"Daddy" I yell.
I hugged him and kissed
him.
"I love you" I said to him.
"Me too" he said back.

My dad and I share good times together, but when he is away, I feel lonely and have no one to play with.

A other reason why I miss my dad is because he takes care of me when I am sick.

I miss the way he gives medicine and alway puts a olive on the top.

I miss the way he plays cards with me and always lets me win.

I miss the way he told me stories. They make me feel really close to him.

But now I am sitting alone and medicine taste bad, nobody is playing with me. No one is going to tell stories the way my dad did.

Perhaps most important reason why I miss my dad is that he makes me safe when I am afraid.

An example of this is when I was afraid of the dark, he wasn't there to make me feel better.

If he was there he would be telling me some stories.

If he was there he would be singing a song to make me sleep.

If he was there he would be hugging me and telling me that it was okay.

An example of this is one day when he was away I was afraid. I needed someone to be there. My mom and my sisters was busy. But if my was there we would stay up, laughing at jokes or watching baseball.

I been thinking a lot about my idea. I read some books and I was thinking of it every where I go. One day I found this quote, "Love is missing someone when even they're away." I like this quote because it connects my thesis I love him and miss him when he goes away. Many people, like me, agree with the quote. I know that my dad is always there for me no matter what. I am really thankful to have him as my dad!
