PUSHING OUR THINKING ABOUT READING

For example . . .	I think this is important because . . .
Another example is . . .	I noticed that section, too. . . and I think this connects to the whole story because. . .
To add on . . .
This makes me realize . . .	I see (the item you are discussion), and then a similar thing happens (in this place); I think this is repeated because . . .
This is important because . . .
This is giving me the idea that . . .	There is one thing in the story that doesn't "fit" for me, and it's . . .
The reason for this is . . .	This might be present because . . .
Another reason is . . .	In the beginning . . . Then later . . . Finally . . .
This connects with . . .	In the beginning . . . In the middle . . . At the end . . .
On the other hand . . .	Many people think . . . but I think . . .
I partly agree, but . . . because . . .	I used to think . . . but now I'm realizing . . .
Could it also be that . . .
Might the reason for this be . . .
This is similar to . . .
This is different from . . .
